SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—(Special)

A Fresno dispatch to the Chronicle

says there has been a practical demonstration of the fact that Evans and Morrell are not so easy to take by surprise as their recklessness has seemed to indicate. Two deputy sheriffs today ran up against them and found out that the bandits were ready. They were greeted with a perfect fusillade of fire from both sides, as Evans and Morrell were in a line between them. Instead, it is reported that the officers took to flight,
the bandits diligently firing upon them.

The officers were looking for the bandits in that neighborhood, and were riding in a cart. When they got near the place of a rancher named Robinson, Timmins alighted and started in the direction of the house. He had only gone a short distance when Evans and Morrell came out of St. Clair's house near by, and immediately opened fire on the officers. The latter had the advantage, being separated, and could have raked the bandits from both sides, as Evans and Morrell were in a line between them. Instead, it is reported that the officers took to flight,
the bandits diligently firing upon them.

After the officers had fled some distance they returned a few shots without, however, ceasing to fire. In their flight Timmins and Boyd became separated, the former finally turning up at Dinuba and the latter at Reedley. Tim-mins telephoned the news of the fight to Sheriff Scott, who started for Sanger
by train this evening with Deputy H. Ra-pelje. Both are heavily armed.

It is said that twenty-four or five shots were fired, the robbers firing twenty and the officers four. Another report has it that the officers made a bold stand, but were under a disadvantage, as the bandits were under cover.
No further particulars can be had here
at present.

A HUGE METEOR.

It Falls Near Candelaria, Nev., Causing a

Shock Like an Earthquake.

CARSON (Nev.) Feb. 4.—(By the Associated Press.) On the night of February 1, about 10:20 o'clock, a brilliant meteor shot over western Nevada and eastern California, illuminating the heavens for a space of several seconds.
It has now been ascertained that the meteor struck about five miles from Candelaria, a way-station in Esmeralda county, 140 miles from here.

People there who saw the meteor describe it as a great body of fire with a tail like a comet. As it rushed through the air it made a noise like that of a sky-rocket as it starts upward. Many of the people were greatly alarmed at the sudden appearance of the great, fiery mass. Suddenly it seemed to burst in air and the light disappeared; then came a strange rumbling noise and also a shaking of the earth. The report here is that houses in Candelaria were shaken as if by an earthquake. People gave wide wild estimates as to the weight of the meteor, some of them saying it must have weighed 100,000 tons to cause such a shock of the earth.

On Friday morning a party was organized and started in search of the fallen meteor. Toward evening the searchers began to find broken branches
which had been knocked from the trees
by the flying fragments, sagebrush torn up by the roots and holes in the earth
which had been gouged out by pieces of the meteor. Finally they came upon a huge hole nearly one hundred feet across, where the larger portion had fallen. It had struck on a bare knoll, composed of sand and rocks, and asked him to afford protection to all American vessels. Picking said that if American sailors were shot while a vessel was in the act of discharging its cargo he would promptly prosecute the captain of the rebel warship responsible for the sailors' death. Rey, Thompson said he was unwilling to go. Thompson was thus rendered powerless to do anything more.

Now, everything is changed, owing to the determined action of Admiral Benham. It is impossible to discharge cargo elsewhere as all tug boats used in towing vessels are owned by Brazilians and Da Gama threatens to promptly seize them if they try to load up again.

Da Gama is said to be a man of great energy and determination.

He thinks that the charhouse is slight.

He advises, however, to advise American captains how they should act but is determined to afford them all the protection he can. The report of the sinking of a torpedo-boat last Monday
was without foundation.

A REVOLUTIONARY PRIEST.

Father Casanova Loses His Life at the Head of His Men.

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 4.—(By the Associated Press.) Father Casanova,

the revolutionary priest, has finally lost his life while in the act of leading armed forces against the government in the mountainous regions.

He was one of the leaders in the recent revolutionary movement in the State of Guerrero and was captured with

Gen. Canuto Neri and placed in sol-

tary confinement in Belém prison.

He was in prison only a few days when he made his escape and found refuge

among Catholic sympathizers where he quietly worked up strong feeling against the government and organized a force of about a hundred men.

With this small army he made an attack upon a hacienda in the State of Mexico and secured a large lot of supplies. His men were pursued and retaken by a troop of cavalry commanded by Col. Sohn, and in the fight the priest was killed. Ten followers were also killed.

AROUND TEQUICUILPA.

Gen. Ortiz prepares to Capture Vasquez in

Two Days.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(By the Associated Press.) The Herald's special from Managua says President Vasquez made a desperate effort yesterday to get out of the capital, Tequicuilpa,
where he is hemmed in by invading forces. After a severe struggle, however, he was forced back. Then he reinforced the garrison of Pichaco Hill
and continued the artillery duel.

Every endeavor is being made by invaders to cut off the city's water supply, and Gen. Ortiz, in command of the besiegers, has wired President Zelaya, promising to capture Pichaco in two more days.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(By the Associated Press.) The first two days of the present week in the Senate will be taken up with the Federal Elections
Bill to the exclusion of everything else except routine morning business, which will include only the introduction of bills.
The presentation of the bond resolution of Senator Stewart will go over until Wednesday to permit the uninterrupted continuation of the debate on the Elections Bill upon which a vote will be taken on Tuesday afternoon. The agreement is that the Senate shall sit Tuesday until this measure is disposed of. There is a bare possibility, however, that the debate may not be exhausted
by that time and that the disposition of it will not be accomplished then, as agreements of this kind in the Senate are not always considered inviolate.
There is also an agreement that the discussion of the bond resolution shall be resumed on Wednesday.

It is possible that the Hawaiian resolution introduced by Senator Turpin

from the Foreign Relations Committee or the House resolution on the same subject, which will probably reach the Senate during the week, will receive attention, but it is hardly probable that much, if any, time will be given to such resolutions because other subjects
are more pressing for attention.

The Hawaiian debate, Representative

Blanchard's bill for the coining of the silver

seigniorage, the O'Neill-Joy contended

case and perhaps the Fortification

Appropriation Bill, will occupy

Average Wages Paid by the Santa Fe in Kansas.

Northern Transcontinental Roads' Agreement.

The Sale of Mileage Tickets Indicative of Business—Heavy Travel by Steam-boats to San Francisco—Scrap Heap.

The San Francisco Examiner of Saturday had this:

"J. S. Leeds, manager of the Traffic Association, left for the East somewhat over a week ago on a financial mission on which depends the future of the North American Navigation Company, but from a dispatch received from New York last evening it would seem that his mission has been a failure. When Mr. Leeds left for New York he was vested with authority from the North American Navigation Company to secure from the Panama Railroad Company a renewal of the contract between the two companies under more favorable terms than exist at present. The possibility that the North American Navigation Company might be compelled to give up the competition by sea, by which it is fighting the transcontinental railways—unless something happened to give it a new lease of life, prompted the Navigation Company to send Mr. Leeds East. The Traffic Association had great difficulty in raising the $100,000 bonus to keep the company's steamers afloat temporarily, and as it is certain that the difficulty of periodically raising the bonus in the future will increase, the directors of the North American Company saw no way out of the difficulty except in securing a modification of the agreement with the Panama Railroad Company. Two other proposals were presented, either one of which if carried out would keep up the competition by sea. In the event that a satisfactory renewal of the contract with the Panama railroad could not be secured Mr. Leeds was empowered to open negotiations looking to the sale of the North American Navigation Company and its influence to the Panama Railroad Company which would permit the latter to operate its own steamers on the Pacific as it does on the Atlantic and keep the Pacific mail out of Panama. The other proposal was for the North American Navigation Company to continue its corporate existence and use its influence to keep afloat a line of steamers which, it was proposed, the Panama railroad would put on the line between San Francisco and Panama."

"Mr. Leeds was forced to return to carry out one of those propositions that appeared most advantageous to the interests of the San Francisco merchants. But it would not appear that he had been able to accomplish anything. The dispatch received last evening from New York announced that J. S. Leeds left town that afternoon over the Pennsylvania route. He was very much disheartened and expressed the belief that nothing could be done. The North American company's contract with the Northern railroad expires the 1st of May. What will be done to keep the company's steamers running after that date, now that the efforts of the traffic manager have proved of no avail, remains to be seen."

RATE AGREEMENT.

The terms of the agreement entered into by the four Northern transcontinental roads has been made public.

The fourth road, the Oregon Short Line of the Union Pacific, is little affected by the agreement. The principal object accomplished is the waiving of differentials on the part of the Canadian Pacific and other roads which are obliged to make water connections to and from terminals in consideration of the grant of the right to use each other's tracks in all other lines of $45 first-class from Portland to St. Paul and the Missouri and $35 second class going West. The agreement will have no particular effect on the Southern Pacific's business, the officials of the latter company say, but the low rates will be the chief buttress to lessen the company's passenger traffic from North Pacific points East via Sacramento and Oregon.

STEAMER TRAVEL.

The boats of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company are all loaded to their full capacity with passengers going to San Francisco from Southern California points. It is said that the business from northern ports is fully as heavy. To gain more room it is suggested by the company that more space be sold to married couples while the rush is on. A man and his wife occupy only two berths, and there are three to each stateroom. In this way the use of one berth is lost. In future the ladies will have to occupy rooms apart from the lords of creation.

SANTA FE AVERAGE WAGES.

The secretary of the Kansas State Board of Railroad Commissioners has turned over to the State Printed annual report of the board. An interesting feature of the report is the average daily wages paid by the leading railroads of the State. The figures reported by the Atchison are as follows:

Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe averages: General officers, $129 a day; general agents, $115; expressmen, $104; clerks, $78; engineers, $45; firemen, $25; conductors, $34; other trainmen, $20; machinists, $26; carpenters, $22; other shopmen, $17.50; section foremen, $16.80; other trackmen, $12.70; switchmen, $10.68; telegraph operators, $11.75; total average, $13.44.

These averages are not the average wages paid daily by the year, but by the number of days each employee worked.

MIDWINTER SHOOTING FESTIVAL.

An International Contest Open Until March 2d. Cash Prizes to $10,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—(By the Associated Press.) The International Midwinter Fair Shooting Festival, held under the auspices of the San Francisco Schuetzen Verein and open to the marksmen of the world, began this afternoon at Shell Mound Park, Alameda county. Over $10,000 in coin prizes have been hung up before the crack shots entering for the contest.

The festival opened this morning with a grand parade through the streets of this city. Over five hundred people, led by two brass bands, joined in the procession. All the shooting clubs of San Francisco and clubs from Sacramento, San Jose and neighboring towns were in line though as yet none of the contestants expected from the East or from Southern California or Washington or Oregon have arrived.

On the grounds at Shell Mound 3000 people gathered to witness the shooting and participate in the picnic and festivities. Though over $2000 worth of shooting tickets were sold during the day only 100 contestants actually entered the field. The individual shooting was generally good.

All events being open for entry up to the close of the festival, none of the contestants will be declared until the closing day, March 25. The shooting will continue tomorrow and every Wednesday and Saturday until the close of the festival.

There were 13,154 admissions at the fair today.

German Steamer Taormini Sustains Considerable Damage on the Atlantic.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(By the Associated Press.) Heavy seas, high winds and generally rough weather was reported by several overused vessels arriving today.

The German steamer Taormini had her mainmast carried away during a hurricane on January 30 off Sable Island. The steamer sustained heavy damages, the captain being broken, the forward hatch smashed, the stanchions carried away and the life-boats swept overboard.

The Chinese New Year.

Chinatown was in feve last night, the occasion being the celebration of the Chinese New Year, which was ushered in at midnight according to the rites of the almond-eyed disciples of Confucius, with as much noise as they could possibly make. In the opinion of the early spirits might be scared away from the scene of their festivities, some of the heathen at intervals discharged huge bundles of firecrackers suspended from the eaves of their dwellings, while others beat discarded tom-toms, gongs and cymbals, the effect of the combination being appalling to the ear of harmony. Apart from the tumult, however, the scene was an interesting one. Every house and store was brilliantly illuminated by colored lanterns of all degrees and sizes, and the inhabitants of that quarter dressed in green holiday attire, fitted about exchanging jokes and the compliments of the season, apparently in the best of humor with themselves and the world at large. Everything was wide open, and everybody, white or yellow, appeared to be as welcome as the flowers that bloom in the spring." With the open generosity so characteristic of their race, the Chinese left presents upon each other, and their friends, indiscriminately, while the effect of the combination was placed at the disposal of callers everywhere. In short, feasting and rejoicing were the order of the night, and none were, apparently, slow to take advantage of it.

As usual, the festivities will be maintained for several days.

PHOENIX (Ariz.), Feb. 2, 1894.—(To the Editor of The Times.) Reading in your paper of the strange will made by a dying eccentric (7) resident of your city, and anticipating the event of the estate exceeding $100,000 after settlement, I write you to respectfully submit for your opinion a woman's idea of what would be an appropriate design for the "statuary" requested the trust always to be placed around his modest tomb. Let me be enclosed in moral palings, as near as possible like the usual farmyard pigsty is enclosed with. Have the feed trough an elaborate affair, whose sides shall resemble bank notes and the like, with a group of fattened hogs in all their midst a statue of the departed, standing gloating over a hoghead full of gold and currency. Then, in some conspicuous place leave in letters large and deep: "The ruling passion, strong in death." This I think, might the admirable character of the dead be portrayed and exhibited to the public, and be following out his will—with justice, something he quite overlooked in making it.

(New York World.) Baring the head or not in elevators where women are present is a matter which depends altogether upon the character of the elevator. If, for instance, the latter is carefully upholstered and fitted up as a room, as is the case of most of the leading hotels of New York, it is better to wear a hat. If, on the other hand, the elevator is merely an ordinary car without seats and in a comparatively public building, where there is an enormous amount of traffic, often of the most mixed and rough kind, the removal of the hat is superfluous and frequently embarrassing to the women present.

AMUSEMENTS TONIGHT.

BURBANK THEATER.—Faust.
LOS ANGELES THEATER.—The English.

FRED M. SOMERS.

The sad tidings have reached this city by cable that Fred M. Somers, one of the founders of the San Francisco Argonaut, died of pneumonia at Southampton, England, last Friday night. Mr. Somers was a familiar figure in the journalistic world of California for many years. While a correspondent of the San Francisco Chronicle, during a legislative session at Sacramento in the '70s, he was the victim of an aggravated assault by one Reddy, a member of the Assembly from Mariposa county, and familiarly known as "the Mariposa blacksmith."

Some years ago Mr. Somers disposed of his interest in the Argonaut and went to New York, where he established the now well-known magazine, "Current Literature." This venture was a phenomenal success from the start and its founder retired from it some two years ago with a handsome fortune. Since that time Mr. Somers had been sight-seeing about the world. He spent several weeks in this city a few months ago, where he had a large circle of friends, who will be grieved to learn of the death of one of the most accomplished and companionable men who ever adorned the press of California. Mr. Somers was a charter member of the Bohemian Club of San Francisco and one of its brightest spirits. Green be the turf above him, for he was a noble fellow!

The San Bernardino Times-Index thus reads the riot act to its people regarding the recent visit of the Eastern newspapermen to their city. An additional charge is upheld without more spikes than roses when its occupant can sit on it and blush for the lack of courtesy the citizens of San Bernardino exhibited yesterday. A party of newspaper men, connected with the leading journals of Chicago, Cleveland, and other cities were, at Los Angeles and Pasadena and hurriedly shown their many attractions.

At Riverside they were met by representative citizens and driven in and around their city. At Redlands they were received like chamber-music masters at the Windsor.

At Highlands, energetic, wide-awake little village that it is, a delegation of its stirring people drove the visiting members of the Faberhold through their orange groves and showed them how Redlands was surpassing in trade and diversion from it San Bernardino. All of our surrounding towns seemed to vie with each other in putting themselves and their country at their best, but San Bernardino did nothing, absolutely nothing! Her neglect is dismaying, her want of business sense in this instance was a piece of slothful imbecility, and as this city was shamefully unique in ignoring a splendid opportunity to cause simple courtesy to be repaid an hundred fold, it must expect to be ignored if not shunned. In the reports of these visiting journalists it seems to us that the embarrassing adversity of the great natural resources around us actually hamper us, and that we are so surfeited with opportunities never invaded that we are becoming untenable as well as the victims of contended indifference."

Mr. Rayner of Maryland complains bitterly that he bears altogether too much about the old flag from Mr. Boutell of Maine. It is a bit singular that all the men who have a grievance about Old Glory come from one particular section of the country, and that it must always be a blowout of a neighbor of his, who gets tangled up in his folds to his everlasting undoing. Mr. Rayner, go to!

Gov. Matthews of Indiana says Corbett and Jackson shall not fight in the hoop-state, but as Gov. Mitchell of Florida remarked volubly to the same effect about the recent set-to at Jacksonville, the public will probably wait and see which is the bigger man, Mr. Matthews of Indiana or the boxing-club that proposes to get up the mill.

Christopher Evans is working the press for the Evans and Sontag play with all the adroitness of the most accomplished advance agent. The advertising stuff he is getting for Eva, her ma and the kids is worth at least $3 a line, "straight reading."

The San Francisco Examiner has put up a $5000 cup to be voted to the county which has the best exhibit at the Midwinter Fair. This will certainly be the cup that cheers—the county which gets it.

Mr. Wilson of tariff-bill fame was given a banquet by the New York Board of Trade last Saturday night. When his bill gets thoroughly to work Mr. Wilson will be in luck to get a free lunch.

The Santa Cruz Sentinel suggests that a law be passed that none but Chinamen shall be hanged in California. We see no reason for any such law, as it works that way, law or no law.

Ex-Minister Stevens does not call Congressman McCleary a liar, but he intimates that truth and McCleary wouldn't know each other if they met in the street.

Capt. Zalinski has been put on the restricted list because of disability, and his little dynamite gun is all cocked and primed to put a lot of other people in the same fix.

Apache Kid and Christopher Evans are the champion clowns of the age.

Ike Bullis's Camp.

While in search of further evidence against Ike Bullis, the counterfeiter, now in the City Jail, Detective Insley found a camp on the bank of the river, about five miles north of the city, yesterday morning, which had undoubtedly been used by his prisoner recently, for several broken dies, blocks of plaster of paris, chemicals and tools were discovered hidden in the vicinity.

A Wish.

When I am done with pen and ink,
And only sleep in careless hope,
Oh, when me to the Cotswold hills
And leave me on the southern slope!

The modus of nature glows
An amanuensis with the fiery air;
And passeth understanding there.

Come, sweet and dearest, nor deny
The tribute of one gentle pain;
Repair my primrose with a tear;
But never wish me home again.

A LIST OF WINNERS.

Record Makers of the Year 1893.

Big Purse Won by the Four-year-olds.

Programme of Polo Sports Scheduled for February 22.

What a Correspondent Has to Say About Hackneys—Callings Followed by Well-known Horsemen in Former Years—Sporting Notes.

Last year's four-year-old winners of $500 or more each on the American turf uphold 1893 as the banner season in money earned, races won and number of individual performers, says the Chicago Herald. In this they follow the lead of the two and three-year-old cracks. During the past year thirty-eight four-year-olds won over $5000 each, as against thirty-six in 1892, thirty-nine in 1891, twenty-six in 1890, twenty-one in 1889, seventeen in 1888, and fourteen in 1887. During the year last named the lucky fourteen won a total of 117 races and $165,648, while the seventeen of 1888 took 130 races and $178,293, and in 1888 the twenty-two landed 221 races and $213,551. In 1890, the twenty-six of that season won 190 races and $259,862. In 1891, the totals of the thirty-two famous horses were 335 races and $249,871 won, while in 1892 the thirty-six stars led the way home in 343 races, and captured $330,724 in stakes and purses. A glance at the totals of 1893 will show that the racing covers every year, being $177,132, and the winning class of horses won in 1892, $164,487 over 1891, $199 over 1889, $23,218 over 1890, $47,509 over 1891 and $12,056 over 1892. The races captured also outnumber those won in 1893, 253 more than in 1888, 162 more than in 1890, 149 more than in 1891, 48 more than in 1892, and 40 more than in 1893. This is no mean showing, considering the fact that in previous years no limit time was placed on the extent of racing, as was the case in the East, in 1888. In 1887 the greatest winning four-year-old was $10,000, which earned $19,933, while next on the list was Dry Monopole, which landed $17,975. In 1888, by earning $35,941, Firenze landed, Kingston being the runner-up with $17,195 won. In 1889 Raceland's winning aggregate was $25,091, which enabled him to lead the list, while in 1890, $21,650 won by Salvator in 1890 put him at the head of winning four-year-olds of that year, his old enemy, Tenny, with $23,205, being his closest attendant. In 1891, Tenny was second, and in 1892, $21,140.

(San Francisco Chronicle) The comment of the East on the hanging of Lee Sing will probably be that California only executes the friendless Chinese. The worst feature of such comment will be its truth.

(Sacramento Record-Union) Now it is Firenze's turn to make a claim for the State convention. Well she has a powerful attraction; she can show the jail where Evans was but is not. She has but one rival on that basis—Santa Rosa can point with pride to the hole that let the murderer Bruggy through.

(Sacramento Citizen) There is some talk in Washington about attacking Arizona onto Nevada or New Mexico, and then admitting us as a State. The people will seriously object to any such measure. They prefer Territorial vassalage. Statehood under such conditions.

ANOTHER RAINMAKER.

Said to Be Able to Produce Rain at Will.

A new rainmaker has come to the front at Visalia, who is said to be a wonder and can produce showers at any time, in any sort of season. The San Francisco Examiner gives the following account of the man and his methods, in a special dispatch from Visalia:

"A week ago Wednesday Frank Baker of Visalia, an amateur rainmaker, went to Pixley for the purpose of procuring a specimen. Before he left, he informed the Examiner correspondent that he intended to produce rain within seven days, and he kept his word. On Tuesday and Wednesday a local rain-storm occurred in the vicinity of Pixley, amounting to 35 to 45 of an inch.

Mrs. Baker returned to Visalia this morning in jubilant spirit. He is now satisfied beyond a doubt that he can produce rain by means of his appliance. He proposes to visit Pixley every two weeks, and is sanguine that he will be successful in his experiments.

"During the week of April 1 and May he proposes to put forth his best efforts in order to thoroughly drench the soil. The residents of Pixley are well pleased with Baker's experiments, and they propose to assist him in conducting his future operations.

"Baker is a man who has been experimenting with rain-making three years ago in January. He made the discovery of his solution accidentally, while mixing some chemicals together to form a liquid. Baker, who is a druggist, says he believes that the chemicals had a wonderful influence over the atmosphere, as it became close and humid in close proximity to where he was using chemicals, and after the entire evaporation of the liquid it became cloudy and there was a precipitation of rain."

"During the months from January to June, Baker continued his experiments with equal success. In fact, he says he never failed to produce a storm within six or seven days during the months mentioned.

"Baker had so much confidence in his process that he has a small place near Pixley planned and sown with grass.

"Baker, and by using a large amount of chemicals I create a storm center that causes a rain that will extend over a large stretch of territory."

is the knowledge of the principles and laws of nature. Religion and morality have principles and laws; and a knowledge of these things is science when Christ says, "I am the truth." He means that in His own spirit He is the repository and teacher of the principles and laws of spiritual life. The beatitudes are scientific statements of truth, and can be demonstrated in human experience as clearly as any fact in physical science. Christ trusted nature implicitly, and so did the Father in her taking the veil from her beautiful face, and by showing Him all her secrets. Belief and above nature the Father taught Him the divine meanings of all things and all lives. Christ's test of life was, "If ye have seen, then ye have believed," and not by "Lord, Lord." A man's character is his real creed, and a man's life is his real religion. If any man lives Christ he will keep His commandments; and, therefore, he cannot be superstitious, bigoted, cruel, misrepresenting his neighbors. Such a man has Christ's seal.

SIMPSON TABERNACLE.

At Simpson Tabernacle, the pastor, Dr. G. C. McLean, preached the fourth of a series of sermons on "Spiritual Life." The subject for the morning, "The Evidence of Belief," was supported by the text from I John v, 10: "He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness within himself."

A second theory, said the speaker, is that of the belief in the Word. The Buddhist is perfectly sincere in his belief, but does not realize the peace of soul that is satisfying.

The minister took objection to the teaching of some evangelists, as well as to ministers whose doctrine of "Believe in Jesus" are weak and you are saved." This, said he, is not only erroneous, but dangerous. There must be evidence of sins pardoned, of our acceptance with God, and such evidence must come from Him, in whom we believe.

Such an important fact as man's salvation has not been left in doubt. Faith is necessary to belief, but these together are not salvation.

Is it possible we can have the evidence of our sins pardoned? Paul says:

"Let man keep quiet while God speaks through His Holy Spirit. Belief is the root of the tree, the evidence the fruit. Belief in Paul sitting in the house of Judas in Damascus, blind, but praying; evidence in Paul looking into the grave, etc., etc. I am now ready to be offered up. Belief is our act; evidence the act of God."

The communion service followed the sermon. A broad and cordial invitation was extended to all believers to partake of the sacrament.

During the offertory, Miss Elizabeth Kimball sang an appropriate solo.

At the song service in the evening there was a good attendance. The services were unusually good. Dr. McLean concluded his discourse on the home, on the subject of the Model Young Man, based on the text, Matthew xii, 30. The address to young men was convincing and practical.

Y.W.C.A. GOSPEL MEETING.

The recital hall of the Blanchard-Pitgerald Music Company on South Spring street was opened yesterday to the gospel meeting of the Young Woman's Christian Association. This was a special service of thanksgiving for God's providence in opening up the work in the city with so much promise. The meeting was under the direction of Mrs. Z. D. Mathews, president, who made appropriate remarks on the subject.

Prayer was offered by Rev. J. Jarrett of London and music was rendered by the Y.W.C.A. orchestra. Miss Emma Rider presiding at the piano.

A short Bible reading was given by Miss Morse, general secretary, who embodied in it the following references: Exodus xxxii, 12-19; Joshua 1, 8; Psalms 127th, 1st and 22d.

EPWORTH M. E. CHURCH.

Rev. G. L. Cole, the pastor, preached a practical sermon from Acts II, 1-18. His theme was "Power from on high—Who is it for, what will it do, and how may we get it?" It was shown from the previous chapter and from the prophecy cited by Peter that this power was for every Christian, whether it be minister or layman, male or female, old or young. As to the effects, "they began to speak." Now they have something to say, "and all shall hear." As to speaking with other tongues, the Christian has that power today, not as a miraculous gift, perhaps, but in this it has lost nothing but hath gained.

What can be acquired by the use of money? Money is much better than to have the same bestowed in a ridiculous manner. Miracles imply want, poverty, decadence. Those ages in which miracles were the most prominent were the lowest and most debased spiritually. It was when Israel was oppressed, depressed and enslaved that God, in His might, acts by His hand. The only true benefit of the Sabbath is when the spiritual nation was at its lowest ebb in the days of Ahab, God gave miracle-working power to Elijah and Elisha. The necessity for miracles in the days of Jesus goes out in the hard-hearted and spiritual blindness of the world. The absence of the consciousness of God in the souls of men, "an evil and adulterous generation seeketh after signs" of this kind.

In closing he said that this power may be received by many by waiting, by observation, concentration. In a word, by separation from the world.

UNITED PRESBYTERIANS.

Rev. H. W. Crabbé of the Second United Presbyterian congregation preached Sunday morning in the Y.M.C.A. auditorium. His text was taken from Luke xii, 33-34: "Sell that ye have and get alms; provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not; where no thief approacheth neither moth corrupteth. For where your treasure is there will your heart be also."

The preacher said that the desire in possessing the words was to lead the apostles out in thought to a higher and nobler duty, to a higher conception of their services to Christ, and if they were prepared to do the first, they would be no doubt willing to obey the second command. If we were as deeply interested in the kingdom of God as in His righteousness, in the salvation of our souls as we ought to be, we will have neither time nor disposition to worry about the things that are necessary for our comfort in this life, nor even worry about what we shall have in the life to come.

We may ask ourselves what good reasons can Christ give or what good reasons we ourselves have this morning for listening to the words of our Savior: "Sell that ye have and give alms." It would seem, perhaps, a rash thing for the disciples to do, to sell all that they had, particularly if there was any person who was dependent upon them. Yet it was not inconsistent with God's word, it was not inconsistent in any sense rash or reckless to follow Christ to this extent.

Peter said to Jesus upon one occasion: "Master, we have left all and followed Thee." And Christ said to him that the man who has left everything in this world, for My sake, he shall sit upon thrones of glory, and have everlasting life.

The preacher stated that he had seen others who have earthly possessions, and these possessions stand between them and the kingdom of God. They cannot enter there unless they are willing to part with them for His kingdom. There others who are absorbed in the pinnacles and eminencies of wealth, and it would be better for their souls if they would give them up for Christ's sake. The Lord Jesus Christ will take self, if you will recognize what He will give you for it. He will make a new creation of you. He will give us a new heart in exchange for a change for your possessions; the riches of grace here, and glory hereafter.

For that inheritance which you hold now. He will give an inheritance that is immortal and indestructible, and that fadeth not away. If you will cast your sins upon Him, He will sustain and strengthen them. He will give you peace and pardon; He will give you a crown of righteousness.

There will be a struggle in every heart that seeks to comply with these commands. It will be a desperate struggle; but the reward is sure to those who will be steadfast to the end.

EAST SIDE BAPTIST CHURCH.

Dr. W. N. Clarke of Hamilton Seminary, New York, preached a timely sermon at the East Side Baptist Church on "God's Thoughts and Ours," from the text, Isaiah iv, 8: "For My thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways My ways saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways and My thoughts than your thoughts."

Whatever we may think, said the speaker, God thinks a higher thought upon the matter.

Just before the text is mentioned the wicked man, living in his wicked way and thinking the thoughts of a sinful life; he loves his evil life, and thinks of it with the thoughts of a hard heart, or, perhaps, with dread of God. Our thoughts are not His. But all the while God, too, is thinking of the man's sinful life, but with a higher thought.

The prodigal and his father were both thinking of the same things, but how differently! God's thoughts are: "The wicked man forces his way and return into the fold for He will have mercy upon him, and unto God, for He will abundantly pardon."

God's higher thought is the thought of mercy, help, salvation; He hates the sin, loves the sinner and withdraws the penitent.

TEMPLE-ST. CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Rev. A. C. Smith, of the Temple-street Christian Church, preached yesterday morning upon "The Call of Abraham," pointing out the striking comparison of his call to that of the Christian. He was surrounded by vice and converted. A divine call came to him. So God sends calls to men today. It was a call to separate himself from former attachments. So with Christians, who are "the called out," the separated ones. He was called to wider and more extended horizons. So are we to take to the broad plains of God and humanity. The range broad-minded leaders. No near-sighted man can project great plans. This call was based upon faith in God, a faith that was sorely tested, a faith that overcame obstacles, a faith in God, a faith in trials, that knows nothing save obedience to God. Such faith the world needs. Like Abraham's, our lives are pilgrimages. We should look for the city of God. Like him, Christians should ever be directed by the Lord. We are provided with strength to assist evil when it comes. God ever provides His followers with deliverance from evil. His altars to God were scattered along his pilgrimages. Such should be with the Christian.

For such a life of service he was sent, and for the welfare of the family of the faithful, was made most honorable in human history, and entered upon the eternal rest of God. Such blessings are open to all who have true faith in God and obedience to Him.

PASADENA.

Description of Our Midwinter Fair Exhibit.

It Will Be a Dandy—Social Events of Importance—People Coming and Going—The News of the City in Brief.

M. H. Wright, who has been chosen to arrange and take charge of Pasadena's exhibit at the Midwinter Fair, will leave for the seat of action the latter part of the week. A full description of the space allotted for the exhibit has been received from San Francisco, and the various details agreed upon.

The exhibit will occupy a space on the main aisle, and one of the main entrances, and will have a frontage of thirteen feet and a depth of five feet. The base will consist of ornamental panel-work in white and gold to a height of two and a half feet. From the top of this a shelf will project back a foot and back of this is the alighting place. Exhibits will have a ring of four and a half feet. This will be surrounded by a large frame, in which will be set forth in attractive fashion a collection of photographs, taken by W. H. Hill, which so far as the public are concerned are attractions of Pasadena. In the center of the photographs will be displayed the handsomely-colored drawings of Hotel Green, and the exhibits of W. H. Hill's store, and which will be touched up especially for this purpose. The sloping surface will be covered with oranges mostly, with a few lemons, and some lemons taken to obtain the best possible grade of fruit. A collection of colored photographs of the Midwinter Fair will make up a counter on one side of the space of the exhibit, and will contain a collection of pictures of the various departments of the Fair, and which will be touched up especially for this purpose. The sloping surface will be displayed the words "Pasadena" in large letters of gold, on a white background, and will be seen from all parts of the building.

The above will convey a good idea of the kind of a showing Pasadena will make. Considerable time will be given to the construction of the building, in which the exhibit has been designed, it is a remarkably good one, and there seems to be no room for improvement. Sufficient money has already been given to put the exhibit in place, and there is no reason to doubt that ample funds will be forthcoming for its support throughout the fair.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Matters of Importance to Come Up at the Session Today.

"A LA DELMONICO."

Fine Music as an Aid to Digestion of a Good Dinner.

The matter of the proposed reduction or abandonment altogether of the merchant's tax is expected to be brought before today's session of the City Council. The question was discussed at two or three successive meetings of the Council some months ago, but was referred to a committee, where it has been permitted to slumber since that time. The merchants who are urging the taking off of the tax claim it is an injustice that they should be compelled to pay it. Inasmuch, however, as no provision was made for the taking off of the tax, it is in the highest style of the art. Not satisfied with all this the merchants have gone to the celebrated orchestra, the dinner room by Lowinsky's, celebrated orchestra. A hot dinner will be served, as fine as can be procured anywhere on the Coast, and the elite of the town are fast discovering the merits of the place, as evidenced by the large daily attendance of ladies.

POZZONI'S Complexion Powder is universally known, and everywhere esteemed as the only Powder that will improve the complexion, eradicate tan, wrinkles and all skin diseases.

The report of the City Engineer on the frontage represented by the protests against the widening of Main street between Los Angeles and Main streets, may possibly be completed in time for presentation today, but as it is a good deal of work to prepare the report its presentation will probably be delayed till a later date.

It is expected that about $3500 will be raised from some of the city funds so that it can be used to pay the men put to work for the city. It is understood that this will be the last transfer made for such purpose and that when that is exhausted the city will turn to other means of support, unless some other means of providing work are devised.

The question of the ownership of the lands known as the Abila tract and adjoining Elysian Park will be presented. A carefully prepared statement of costs and demands up from the data compiled from the old records under the supervision of the Northwest Improvement Association, is expected to be submitted to the Council. The statement was prepared by J. H. Melville.

The proposed opening of Jordan street, which may also come up. The City Attorney has decided that the land in question is a public highway and it now only remains for the Council to order the Street Superintendent to open it.

Write us for color cards and prices.

Our colors in oil are strictly pure, and ground as fine as tube colors.
